Translation from Bulgarian

In its capacity of "Chief designer" and "Chief Executive" "Monolite 3" OOD completed the design and the construction of the new Toyota Complex, located at "Tsarigradsko shose" Blvd-the entry into Sofia and representing an administration building with show room, production unit with service premises, and warehouses.

All design works have been completed according to the requirements and the result is a center, unifying different kinds of activities, and at the same time a modern building, giving new look to the entry into Sofia.

In the project, made under the control of architect Rumyana Stefanova were used a lot of modern materials and new technical solutions which result in this complex which is not less successful than other, something more, is excelling by lots of things such complexes in Europe.

The successful final result is due also to the outstanding professional skills of the "Monolite 3" OOD constructors. All construction works have been made according to the project with excellent quality and in due time.

The presence of good-working structure of management, own production and warehouse facilities, rich machines fleet, and great number of own workers are the grounds for the successful completion of the building site by "Monolite 3" OOD.
